

Innovating today for a smarter tomorrow

Your library.
Your choice.

“

From our customer conversations, we believe the market needs healthy competition and a mixed-model approach.
We confirm our commitment to this.

”

James Gray

CEO & founder, Kortext

Scan the QR code to read our full statement and commitment to providing a mixed-model approach for libraries.

Why choose Kortext for your library supply?

Kortext was founded in 2013, but our roots in the higher education and library sectors began way before that. Our CEO & founder, James Gray, has pioneered innovation across these sectors over 30 years and, alongside colleagues with significant industry knowledge, has channeled this experience into making Kortext a success.

As our business grows, we remain committed to supporting the institutions that have helped Kortext become what it is today. Our vision is continuously informed by sector knowledge and insight, and we will actively engage with thought leaders as we navigate the years ahead.

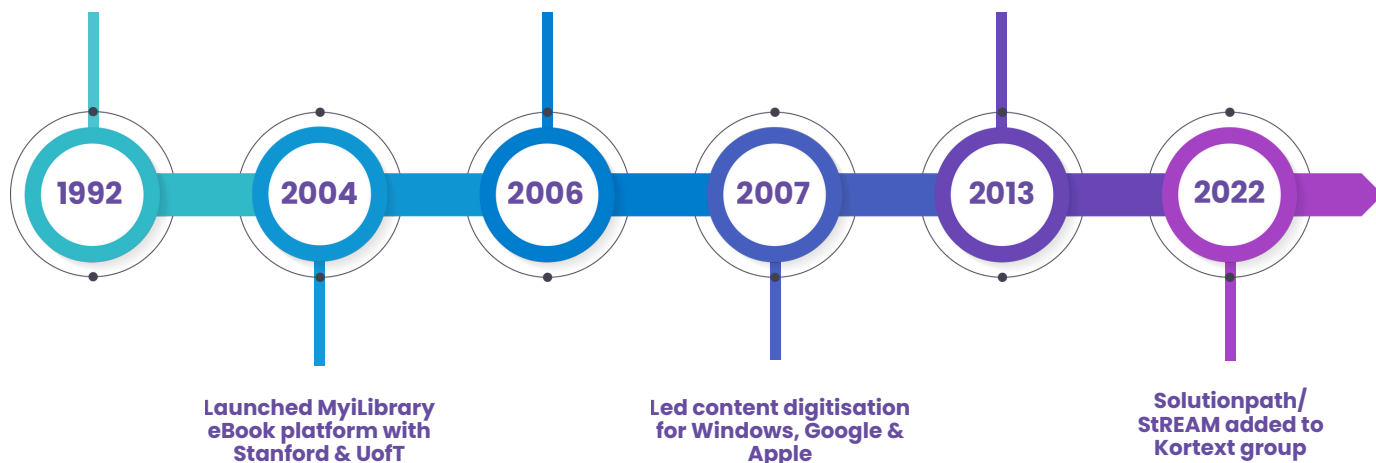

Kortext CEO & founder, James Gray

Started Coutts Information Services (now part of Clarivate ProQuest), including the launch of OASIS

Moved to the USA
Launched Amazon's eBookstore prior to Kindle

Established Kortext
Launched Kortext student experience platform

Supplying libraries with the content they need

7,000+

institutions worldwide use Kortext

8,000+

publishers make their content accessible via our platform

5 million+

eBooks and digital resources available

3 million+

student accounts exist on Kortext study

Your library. Your choice.

We are committed to providing libraries with flexibility, choice and control regarding their content, offering a range of licence models to suit the unique needs of your institution.

Perpetual access models

Multiple concurrency options

1:1 eTextbook licensing

Demand-driven acquisition

Free-to-access OA/OER content

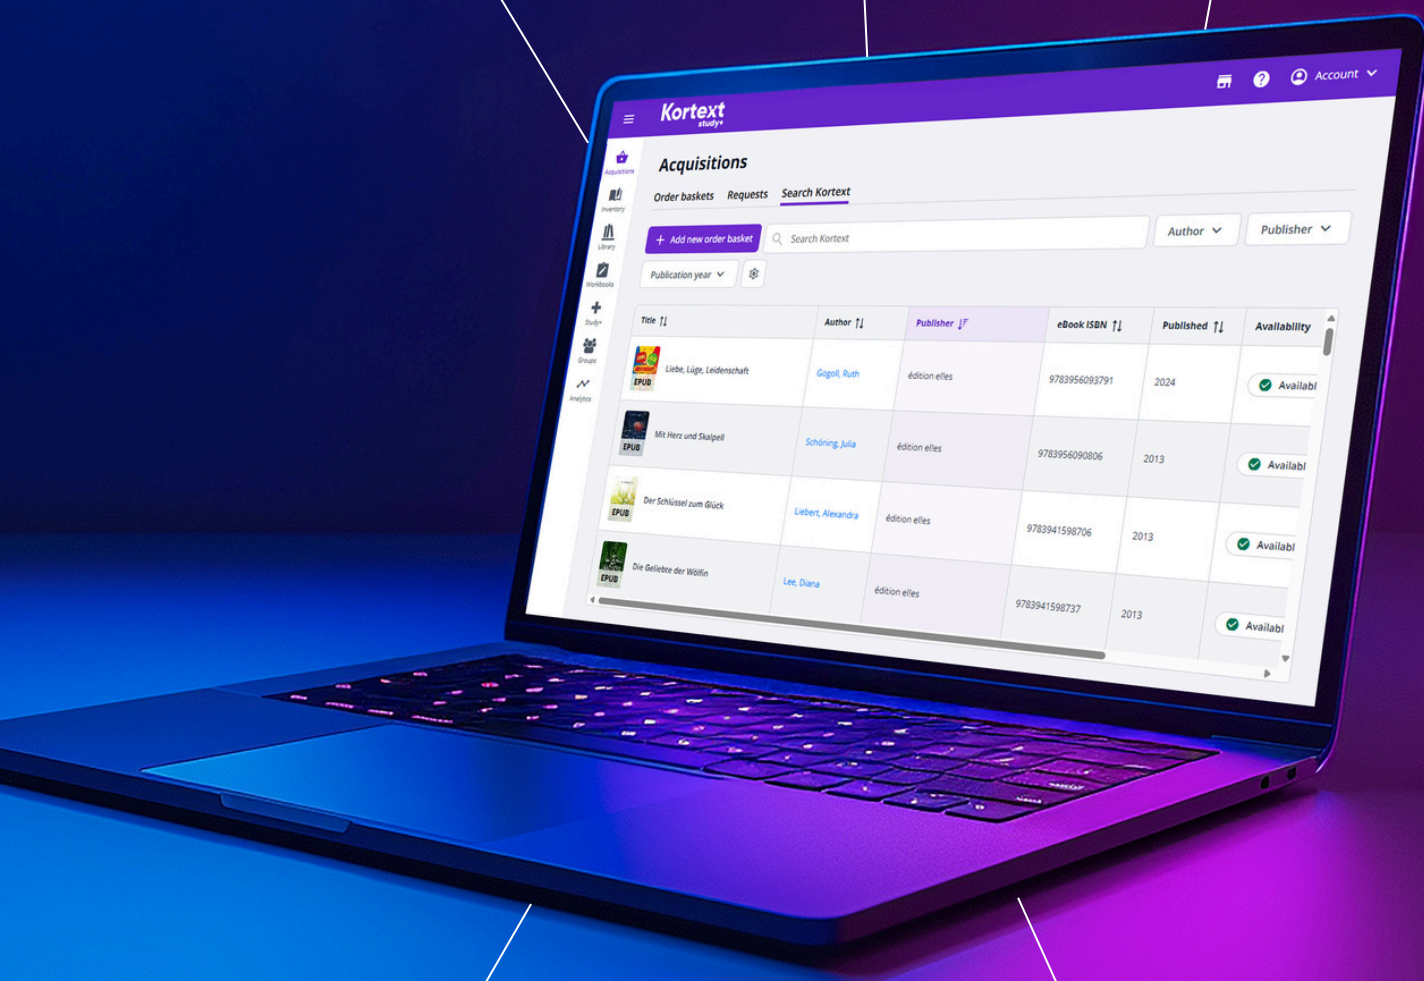

Scan the QR code to discover our full range of library supply options and to discuss how we can best meet your needs.

Transparent, region-specific information about a book's availability.

Options for EDI and API integrations to suit your existing workflows.

Flexibility to integrate with major LMS like Alma, Sierra and OCLC.

Easy acquisitions with multiple options for populating order baskets.

Licensing and purchase options to suit how you want to procure content.

What makes Kortext different

At Kortext, we are constantly striving for innovation, using sector intelligence and input to influence our creative decisions.

Our flagship platform, Kortext fusion, is a groundbreaking, flexible solution that can be tailored to the unique needs of your institution, delivering benefits that include:

Unrivalled student experience

We have invested heavily in our smart study platform which provides students with a whole suite of innovative tools they can access anytime, anywhere, on any device.

Access to powerful, actionable data

Through our analytics dashboards and the StREAM student engagement platform, we offer an array of actionable data for informed decision-making about content and students alike.

Our largest-ever content library

Our platform serves as the gateway to more than three million eBooks, sourced from almost 9,000 publishers. Our content library also includes videos and more than 20,000 OA/OER titles.

Next steps

Choose Kortext for your library supply options by:

- ✓ Scanning the QR code below to take you to the Kortext website
- ✓ Completing the form provided, reviewing the information in our FAQs if needed
- ✓ Liaising with our team to discuss holdings data and other requirements

We will ensure a smooth transition with no interruption to your library supply, and remain committed to providing libraries with flexibility and freedom.

Kortext

www.kortext.com